Core Indicators and Mission Capacity Outcomes7

The FY 2014 OCCC Annual Plan is both a significant departure from previous years and a continuation of the College's student success/completion agenda.

The primary change is the alignment with OCCC's new strategic plan, "The OCCC Roadmap 2018," which includes a new aspiration statement, a new section with three "Big Goals", redrafted mission and ENDS statements, two new values (students and safety), and new initiatives that will be our institutional "to-do" list for the next five years.

However, OCCC's stakeholders - our faculty and staff, our community supporters, and our students - will recognize some familiar themes in this year's plan. The College's emphasis on student success, as defined by certificate or degree completion at OCCC or at a transfer institution, is strongly reaffirmed. Additionally, our commitment to Oklahoma City, symbolized by our new Performing Arts and Capitol Hill facilities, and growing, financially sustainable community programs remains a pivotal part of our mission.

Similarly, the core indicators which will be used to measure our progress in FY 2014 are a mixture of continuing and new indicators. Existing measures of market share and year-over-year changes in enrollment have been supplemented with new metrics targeting growth in our signature OKC-Go program and the number of financially-aided students; student readiness and success measures have been retained as have first - time licensure pass rates and graduate satisfaction; and new community development measurements, introduced last year, will more closely track educational outcomes and financial sustainability. All will be reported annually with recommendations for improvement where indicated.

The College's operating environment remains challenging. State appropriations are expected to be flat or only slightly increased compared to FY 2013. However, funding from the state is expected to remain below FY 2008 levels. Some of this reduced revenue has been offset by increases in technical district funding. OCCC employees have also contributed by continuing to find new ways to accomplish more with less. However, without increases in new funding (including additional money from the state) and further cost reductions in operations, the College's ability to grow and meet the demand for an affordable college education for thousands of Oklahomans could be at risk.

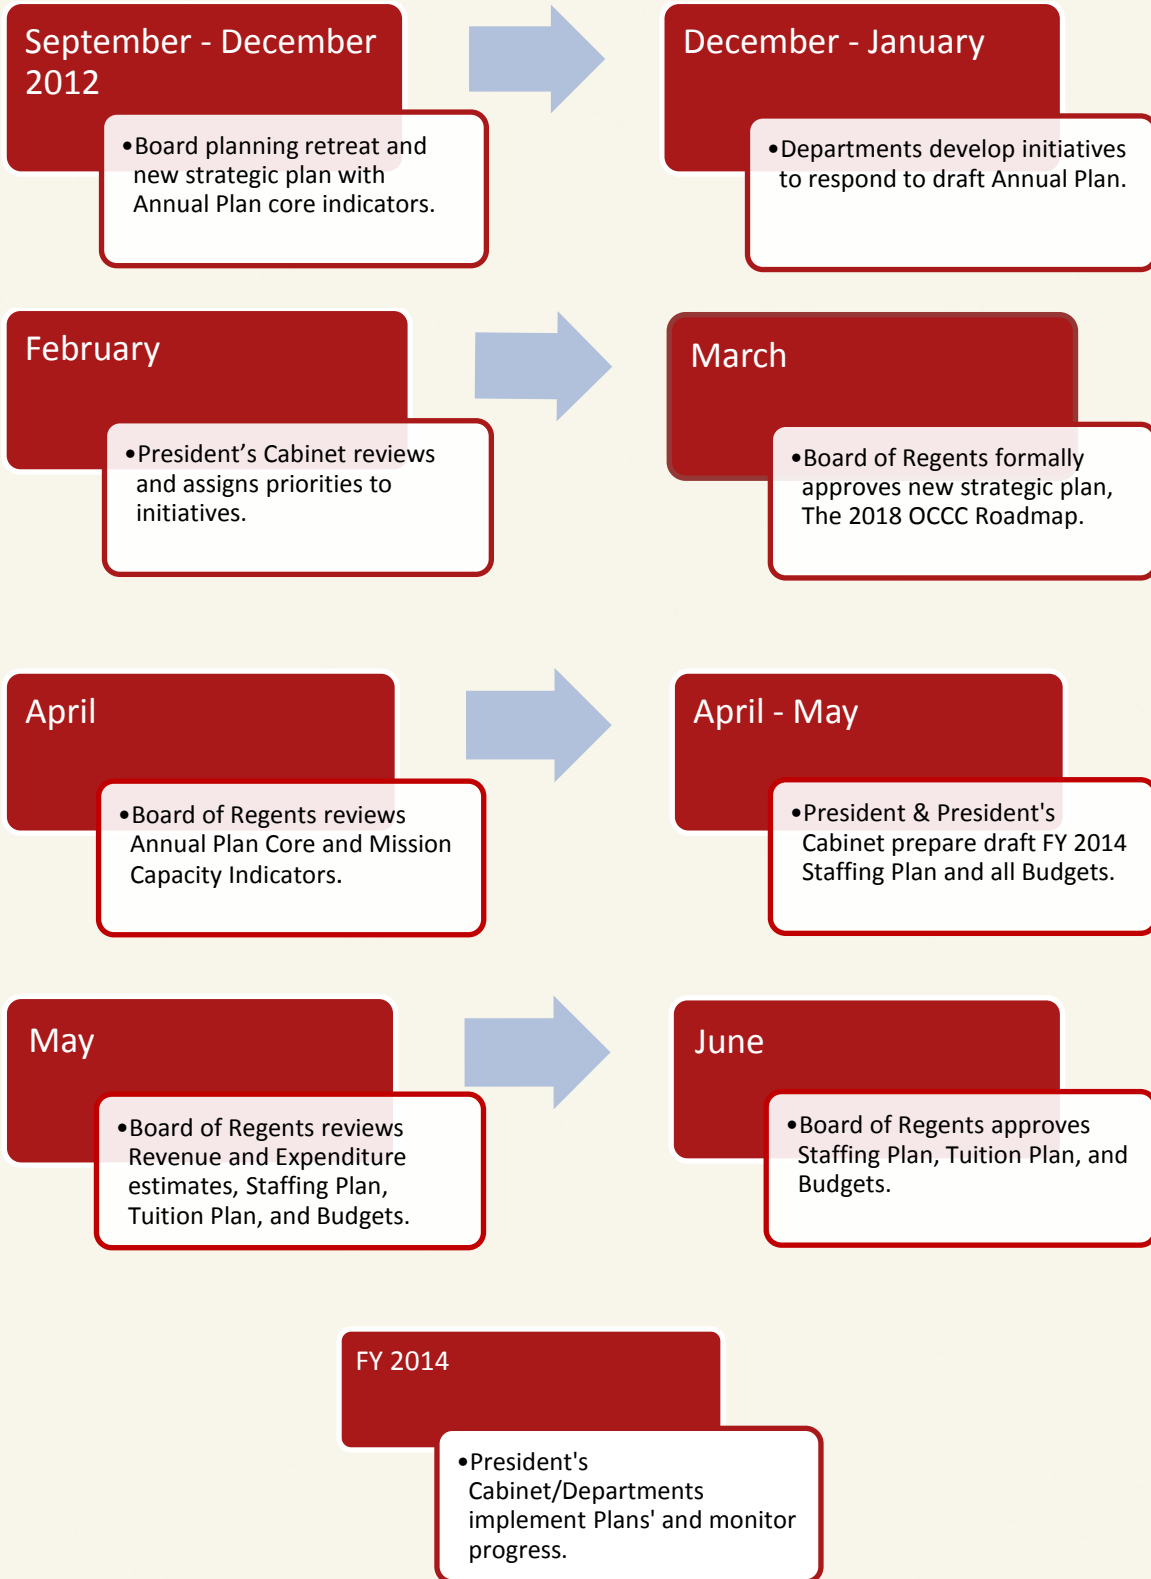

The OCCC Roadmap 2018, is the College's five-year strategic plan. Adopted by the OCCC Board of Regents in 2013, the OCCC Roadmap includes three "Big Goals" and ten initiatives that focus on increasing the number students who receive a certificate or a degree and closing retention and graduation gaps between certain at-risk groups of students and the student population as a whole.

Our Big Goals

1. Increase the number of our students who complete a certificate or degree by 50%.
2. Close the academic achievement gaps that persist with our low-income, first - generation, and some racial and ethnic groups.
3. Double annual giving to support student scholarships, community events, and the endowment.

OCCC Roadmap Initiatives

1. Complete College OCCC. An initiative to increase the number of students who receive a certificate degree through evidenced based decision-making.
2. Partnerships. Working with other educational institutions and the business community to remove barriers to access, improve student outcomes and ensure alignment with local workforce needs.
3. Student Support Programs and Services. Working with partner organizations to ensure the basic needs - food, clothing, transportation - of students are met.
4. Community Development Programs. Enhancing the college's artistic, recreation, and community programs with a stronger emphasis on education and financial sustainability.
5. Capitol Hill Center. A new facility to enhance educational pathways for credit and non-credit students, and assist in business and community development in South Oklahoma City.
6. Focused Professional Development. Education, training, and development of OCCC employees to support achievement of the strategic plan.
7. Technology to Support Learning Services. A commitment to provide reliable, up-to-date, and integrated technology solutions to enhance student learning and improve support services.
8. Learning and Support Facilities. New or renovated learning spaces and other facilities to accommodate OCCC's student population and accomplish the ENDS.
9. Efficient and Effective Business/Operational Services. Improving processes, controlling health care costs and improved energy efficiency.
10. Increasing Revenue from Donations, Grants and Other Sources. Revenues from non-traditional sources will be an increasingly important way for the college to support its mission.

The College's Mission, Values, Vision, and ENDS are the compelling statements of purpose that direct planning and budget development at the College. These statements are the basis for the FY 2014 Planning Directive.
