

Crime and Delinquency

SOC 2063

DEGREE PROGRAM COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Using historical and contemporary theory, students will explore the sociological and psychological dimensions involved in the commission of criminal acts. National and international differences in crime rates across the major categories of crime and the effectiveness of sanctions will be analyzed.

PREREQUISITES?

ENGL 0203, adequate placement score, or by meeting determined placement measures

CREDIT HOURS

3