Educational Lecture Series

"Positive Exposure: The Spirit of Genetic Difference"

Rick Guidotti

Wednesday, Oct. 26 at 2 p.m. CU3

Co-Sponsored by Biotechnology

Rick Guidotti studied architecture and engineering at Philadelphia's Drexel University before transferring to New York's School of Visual Arts. After completing his education in photography and filmmaking, Rick established a studio in Manhattan, specializing in portraiture and fashion photography for fifteen years. During that period, Rick also worked in Milan, Paris, and London. His commercial and editorial clients include L'Oreal, Revlon, Yves Saint Laurent, Allegra, international editions of ELLE, HARPER'S BAZAAR and MARIE CLARE, DETOUR, NY STYLE, and LIFE magazine. Currently Guidotti works to capture the beauty of genetic differences such as albinism.
