Professor Weber opened the meeting by thanking everyone for attending. He then had everyone introduce themselves.

The packets with the brochures, course descriptions and copies of the Cyber Security and Computer Science Degree Programs were provided to each.

First, Professor Weber reviewed the meeting minutes from the last advisory meeting on September 15, 2006, in which topics we discussed were people skill, Ethics, writing skill and presentation skill. He has incorporated more research paper assignments to improve writing skill. Regarding to Ethics, we still have not developed classes here in OCCC, though Rose State has. Although Ethics class is not a requirement for our program, he believes that this type of classes would benefit students a lot.

Tim agrees with the importance of Ethics. His company checks myspace.com as a tool of background check for candidates before selecting. The contents may affect not to consider the particular individual.

Professor Weber shared the experience of his visitation to local elementary schools. He was aware of that some of 4th graders have myspace.com, and there are many unethical issues
