

National Employee Learning Week Begins December 8th

You are invited to help the Professional Development department celebrate National Employee Learning Week.

Please join us on Monday, December 8th, anytime from 10:00 am to 11:30 am in the professional development offices, 2K1 A & B, for cookies and punch and an opportunity to meet the Professional Development staff.

We will have information available about some of the exciting opportunities for workplace learning that will be offered in the spring semester of 2009.

Watch your e-mail every morning of the week for the National Employee Learning Week tip of the day.

We look forward to meeting you

Penny Hampton, Director of Professional Development

Johnny Allen, Coordinator of Technology Training
