

OKLAHOMA CITY COMMUNITY COLLEGE

NO. 4026 DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES

Oklahoma City Community College, through its Developmental Studies Program, addresses its responsibility to provide students the opportunity to develop the basic skills necessary for postsecondary study and for independent thinking in the effective pursuit of their educational goals. During the academic advisement and assessment process, enrollment recommendations will be made to students based on the evaluation and assessment of their skills and compliance with Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education's high school curriculum requirements. Students may be advised to enroll in required zero-level developmental studies courses prerequisite to related collegiate-level classes. Students may also be advised to enroll in GED classes or other non-credit classes designed to prepare for collegiate-level courses.

Effective: 11-14-1994
