Posting to a Q and A Forum

In some of your courses, you may encounter a Q and A (question and answer) forum. The instructions for posting to this forum vary slightly from the normal forum types. As a student, you must reply to your instructor's post before other student's posts will be visible to you. There is a 30-minute wait after you post before you can see or reply to other student's posts.

Mark as done

As shown above, Q and A forums look just like regular discussion forums. But when you click on them, there is a pop-up statement:

This is a question and answer forum. In order to see other responses to these questions, you must first post your answer

To reply to this forum, locate your instructor's post at the bottom of the page and click on the title name.

This will load an area for you to enter your reply. After typing your reply, select Post to Forum:

Blue is the best color because the ocean covers most of the earth, so there's more blue than any other color.
